

HUMBOLDT-UNIVERSITÄT ZU BERLIN

Berlin Workshop in Institutional Analysis of Social-Ecological Systems

Special one-day WINS Symposium convened by the Berlin Workshop in Institutional Analysis of Social-Ecological Systems, in collaboration with the Division of Resource Economics of the Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin and the Economics Department of the Universidad Libre in Pereira, Colombia

Institutions of Sustainability as a Framework to Handle Resource Conflicts

4. May, 2016

[08:30 hr – 17:00 hrs]

Seminar Room 4088

The Integrative Research Institute on Transformations of Human-Environment Systems - IRI THESys, Quartier Stadtmitte, Friedrichstraße 191, 10117 Berlin

Programme:

08:30 hrs – 09:00 hrs	Arrival, Settling In, Coffee
09:00 hrs – 10:00 hrs	Welcome & Introductions: Welcome to the Symposium by Dr. Katharine N. Farrell; Round of Introductions of Participants - highlighting key theory and methods used in their research concerning resource use conflicts
10:00 hrs – 12:00 hrs	Presentations by the Research Team from Universidad Libre in Pereira, directed by Prof. Orlando Rogriguez Garcia Using Institutions of Sustainability to handle resource conflicts: results from five case studies within the Colombian Coffee Cultural Landscape in La Virginia, Barbas Bremen, Santuario, Quinchia and Marsella
12:00 hrs – 12:30 hrs	moderated discussion
12:30 hrs – 13:30 hrs	Lunch (Location to be determined)
13:30 hrs – 14:00 hrs	Short Presentation by Division of Resource Economics Alumnus Prof. Dr. Mario Alberto Aráuz Torres, followed by discussion Using the Concept of Nature Related Transactions to study resource conflicts in the Pine Forests of Nicaragua
14:00 hrs – 14:30 hrs	Short Presentation by Division of Resource Economics Alumnus Dr. Shigeo Watanabe, followed by discussion Using the Institutions of Sustainability to study Access and Benefit Sharing Contracts for the production of Marula Products in Namibia
14:30 hrs – 15:30 hrs	Exploring Opportunities for Collaboration split into parallel breakout groups based on common theory and method interests, to explore possibilities for developing future collaborations
15:30 hrs – 16:00 hrs	Coffee Break
16:00 hrs – 17:00 hrs	Lecture by Prof. Dr. Dr. h.c. Konrad Hagedorn, followed by discussion The Institutions of Sustainability Framework: Theory and Practice n.b. This is an open symposium with limited capacity. IRI THESys staff and students interested in participating in the symposium may register with renate.judis@hu-berlin.de up until 27 April.